T o lay before her—ALL—success—defeat.
I nto her hands their every joy and pain
M any give their love and thanks again
A ll have recourse to her but none in vain.

Foreword

We, the second graduating class of St. Martin of Tours' High School, soaring within the beam of our brilliant alumni, deem it very apropriate to formulate our theme: AFTERGLOW.

All throughout our school days, the pioneers were our immediate leaders; and, so to speak, the "center of attraction."

We are now on the threshold of a new world, anxiously awaiting to fall in line behind them, to march on in the light of their noble standards. Wish us luck!

Dedication

With deep reverence
we, the Class of 1952, gratefully dedicate this issue of the VICTORIA
to His Excellency
MOST REVEREND DANIEL J. FEENEY in appreciation for his condescension in the precious blessing of our dear school and the honor of his presence at our first graduation

TO OUR TEACHERS

Thanks, for they taught us all we know,
Though the learning was sometimes slow,
It took patience a-plenty on their part.
So we hold them very dear to our heart
We now understand the efforts they made
But we know that some day they will be repaid.

Olga Brigalli '52

The seal of a Religious Order is a precis of the doctrine developed in its Constitutions and Customs—precis, more or less expressive according to the symbols and colors which compose it.

The seal of the Sisters of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary is made up of the symbols of faith, hope and charity engraved in gold on an azure background, surmounted by the monogram IHS from which emanate golden rays, and supports a sable rosary in the form of an M, superposing the Community motto "Ad Jesum Per Mariam."

A word of explanation will display the marvelous significance of each of the symbols. The cross is the symbol of our Faith, Hope is the anchor of our soul, Charity is love. Could Jesus have chosen a more suitable emblem of His Love than His Heart of flesh? The Rosary, chain of love which unites us to Mary, Our Mother. The motto "To Jesus Through Mary," keeps before our eyes the true road to sanctity.

Dear Graduates,

School days, with their joys and sorrows, successes and defeats, are now an event of the past. There remain, however, the knowledge and examples which so amply filled this precious time, and ever will remain to be a beacon light along the sea of life.

Sail forth, fearless, for your devoted professors who harbored you during these school days, will still remember you with the Divine Pilot, whose Guiding Hand will lead you safely to Port.

Life's great

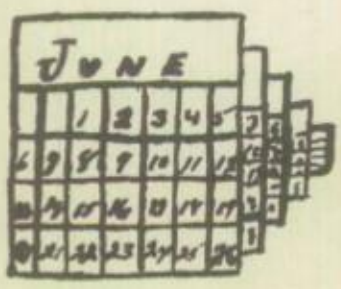
"HALLS OF MONTAZUMA"
Billy's going to join the Marines,
But maybe end up in the Philippines.

"ROAD-HOG IS BOB"
Bobby our new truck driver will be flying around.
So we're warning you now, folks, don't stick around.

"BRUSH AND COMB"
Cecile's "BEAUTY SALOON" is what we'll see,
And as fine as any, it will be.

"WILD BLUE YONDER"
When up yonder you hear a roaring,
You'll think of Francis who is soaring.

"THE THING"
We're almost sure from what we see,
A "Scientist" is what John will be.



"NO SET DATE"
June has now found her mate.
She is soon going to set the date.

moments

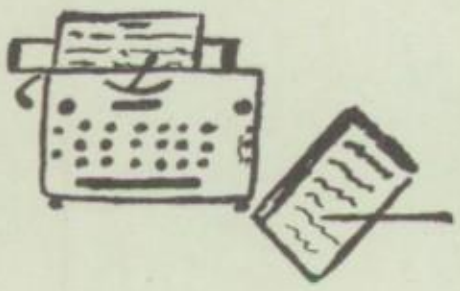
"SECOND GRADUATION"
Mary will proceed to college.
Though she's sure she has enough knowledge.

"AN R.N."
Olga wants to be a nurse. If you ask me,
She won't be the worse.

"ANCHORS AWEIGH"
Roland wanted to join the Navy to see the world,
And "what did he see" but the SEA.



"TICK - TICK"
A secretary Rena plans to be;
She's really a whiz in Typing and Stenography.

"CONNECTICUT IS THE PLACE FOR ME"
Shirley is getting on the alert,
She plans on going to Connecticut to work.

"NUMBER, PLEASE"
"A telephone operator," is what's haunting Trese,
So she's getting practice in saying, Number Please.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1952 of St. Martin of Tours', do hereby make and declare this to be our last will and testament, in form and manner as follows:

To Rev. Father Quinn, we bequeath our deep gratitude, filial veneration, and lifelong remembrance, for all the favors he has bestowed upon us.

To Father L'Heureux, we give our respectful attachment and sincere appreciation for his interest and kindness.

To our beloved teachers, our grateful affection and everlasting devotion.

Upon the Junior Class, we bestow our greatest treasures: our Senior dignity, our excelling wit, our superlative brilliancy, our good looks and charming manner, our favor with the teachers, our splendid grades and our triumphant exit as the most popular class this school has ever seen—these, the rarest of treasures, we hand down to the coming Seniors.

But it would not be fair if we withheld our other valuables, and with great largeness of heart, we pass them along, too. Our capacity for fun, our ability to giggle, our good times, our friendships and our loyalty we do hereby bequeath to the Junior Class, and may they number them among the richest legacies they have ever received.

To the Sophomores and Freshmen we convey the power of saying the right things at the wrong times and vice-versa. Just how this is accomplished, we are not able to say, each one will need to work the matter out for himself. There is no doubt that they will benefit much from the effort.

Now we come to the personal bestowals which have been awarded to individuals with complete consideration to the fitness of the recipient.

To Ann Landry, June Murphy leaves her affinity for words, we are sure it will increase Ann's vocabulary a hundredfold.

Cecile Lagassey leaves to Mary Theresa Daley her vast treasury of males, with the vow that she's going to die an old maid.

Rena Santerre leaves her height to Ronnie Albert; if he gets any taller, we'll have to raise the doorways.

Billy Rush leaves to Llewellyn Baron, the brakes of his Nash, in case Swill's don't take in a tight squeeze.

To Shirlene LaPlante, Theresa Jamieson leaves her distinguished laugh, so that she may sound as happy as Theresa.

Roland Blanchette gives to Joanne Albert his curly hair, may she make good use of it in the future.

Olga Brigalli leaves to Elizabeth Thibodeau her loud voice and boisterous manner; this may help Betty to be heard more easily.

Francis Vienneau transfers his sunny disposition to Ralph Caruso; maybe the school will be more quiet now.

To Felixine Cote, Mary Griffin gives her diet which keeps her slim. Don't let it go unused, Felixine.

Bobby Guimond bequeaths his boldness and wayward disposition to Cary Landry, hoping Cary will make good use of them.

John Costello donates his great ensemble of Hill-billy songs to Rodney Corriveau, hoping Rodney entertains the Classes in his place.

To Irene Lagassey, Shirley Pelkey leaves her pose and poise. We hope that these will help her in the future.

In witness whereof, we attach the signatures of the Class of 1952:

Senior Events

For the twelfth time, the September sun has risen on a new school year. This year, however, the sensation is somewhat different, for we realize that it is the last time that we, as children, will be going to school. A feeling of joy, mingled with regret, enhances us.

Upon our arrival, the merry group, who, for so many years, shared our toils and leisures, are—no more. It seems strange, but they tell us that we will gradually become accustomed to it.

Days glide into weeks, and the various activities take form once more.

SEPTEMBER

7 First day of school.

17 Witnessed the election of officers of: The St. Thomas Aquinas Study Circle, The Knights of Our Lady, Forum, Civics, Latin, French, Science and Athletics Clubs.

18 Something new: a Y.C.S.A., Young Catholic Students' Association. Yes, we're out to improve St. Martin's: its standards, morals, studies, manners, sportsmanship, and so on. Wish us success. With God's help we'll get places.

20 It's about time that we Seniors get organized. Elections revealed the choice of the following officers: President, Robert Guimond; Vice-President, John Costello; Secretary, Mary Griffin; Treasurer, Mary Murphy.

26 The afternoon off. So sudden! 14th anniversary of the Sisters' arrival in this parish.

27 Our first social sponsored by the Seniors was enjoyed by all.

29 Days of salvation. Two Redemptorist Fathers gave us teen-agers very enlightening talks during the mission held here this week. It is up to us to profit by them.

OCTOBER

10 First open Forum. Our new chairman, Cecile Lagassey, tries her authority. Our little Freshmen are not so green after all, they already took an active part in discussions.

19 Principal's feast day. Greetings, congratulations and especially GRATITUDE.

24 Study Club meeting. With such an able President as Francis Vienneau, we are going to improve our manners and study habits or else . . .

25 The Seniors spent a good part of the afternoon beautifying themselves. Easy to understand that it would take some time . . . Graduation pictures taken.

31 Last minute decision for a Hallowe'en Social. Costumes were elaborate, funny, ridiculous, apropos, etc. . . .

NOVEMBER

3 The Latin Club received its Junior Classical League Charter. The dead language is surely getting lively.

4 At a sodality meeting today, the sodalists voted to receive communion and pray the rosary in a body on the first Saturday of every month.

8 Eureka! A spaghetti feed. Nice financial success. The Senior Class Fund is progressing slowly but surely.

11 We open Education Week by organizing our New Library. Books are purchased with the proceeds of the school socials. It makes us look smart, regardless.

14 Education Week assembly: the important school clubs perform skits, demonstrating their various activities. Parents and friends compose the audience.

16 Eloquent speech by Father L'Heureux was followed by an open forum on Christian Education.

22-23 No school. Thanksgiving recess.

27 Last social before Advent. Let's enjoy ourselves, it's later than we think.

DECEMBER

18 Pictures for the yearbook. Look pretty, everybody!

20 First basketball game played by our brand new team against East Millinocket. We lost.

21 Christmas Vacation begins! Believe it or not, but we need a rest.

27 Alumni Meeting. The Class of '51, all smiles as usual met in their Home-Room to draw up plans for the Alumni Constitution. That same night they are entertained at a Social put on by the Class of '52.

JANUARY

7 School reopens. Time is gliding! Senior Play rehearsals. More pictures taken for the Yearbook. We feel more and more like Seniors, but do we show our feelings? . . .

8 Basketball game down East . . . We lost again. We, at least, are learning good sportsmanship in losing.

14 Today, no school for the Seniors. A holiday? . . . Oh, no. We are out soliciting ads for the "1952 VICTORIA." The schools are fortunate to have co-operative businessmen.

21-22 Mid-Year Exams. Why do we have to do such things?

23 Bang! That was the balloon and fun at the Social prepared by our dear little Freshmen. We needed to relax after the strain of the Exams.

28 Lo and behold! A bright plastic wall finishes the new Freshman Class which leaves the former Freshman Class a long, well-lighted spacy room for Home Ec. where the girls learn the art of good housekeeping.

FEBRUARY

1 Once more our boys tried their athletic skill at Lagrange. Skill . . . St. Martin 41, Lagrange 46.
4 The honor parts are announced: Olga Brigalli, Valedictorian; Robert Guimond, Salutatorian. The honor essayists read as follows: Shirley Pelkey, John Costello, Mary Griffin, Theresa Jamieson.
7 Water comes to the third floor: lavatories, drinking fountains, etc. . . . have been installed. All for us . . . we, who have been thirsty for so long!
20 Some more pictures for the Yearbook. We're trying our photographer's patience.
21 Today we have the honor and privilege of listening to Miss Mary Kiely, our Public Librarian, at an assembly period. She very interestingly depicted the value of Catholic Literature and its sources.
26 If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. Again tonight, we play basketball at home with Lagrange. Hurrah! St. Martin 38, Lagrange 33.

MARCH

10 Vocation Week. Reflection, prayer, and study to know our vocation. Grant, Lord, that I may see, and give me courage to follow the light. Posters are exhibited to feature the different fields of apostolate.
13 Again, the photographer is called to take pictures for the Senior Class Play. These are the last ones for the 1952 VICTORIA.
17 Our last work: photos and write-ups for the yearbook leaves today. What a relief.
19 Triple event: Father Quinn's patronal feast day. We offer him our congratulations and renew the expression of our gratitude. At long last . . . the Senior Play. We have a chance to exhibit our theatrical talents. For some of us it is our first and . . . last chance. An arm chair, donated by Mrs. Joseph Vienneau, is raffled off after the Senior Play, for the benefit of the Senior Class Fund. Another financial success, due to the generosity of the people of the town in behalf of their Catholic school.
20 Luxury! Looking-glasses are installed in the girls' beauty parlor (toilet room). If any of the girls happen to be missing, we will know where to find them.
24 The Seniors are already busy composing songs, speeches and skits for Class Night and Graduation. Time seems to fly faster and faster.

APRIL

1 We are dreaming of a Graduation Trip. Will our dream come true? . . . Our Fund will answer the question.
9 Another break in the scholastic routine—Easter vacation.
23 Another social. We certainly do have fun in a small school, don't we?

MAY

20 Sodality elections. We are proud of our new officers.
26 The Yearbooks have arrived. Are we glad?

JUNE

1 CLASS NIGHT. We do not know whether we should laugh or weep. We are glad to graduate but sad to leave our Alma Mater.
4 The Seniors are given a farewell social by the Juniors. Leave it to them, they know how to keep you going. We had a swell time!
8 Baccalaureate ceremony observed at the eight o'clock Mass. followed by a buffet lunch served in the parish hall.
8:00 p.m.—Graduation at the Municipal Building.
10 We've finally made it. We're off for our trip to Canada. Good-bye!

It's hard for a fellow to remain a credit to the family and at the same time keep up with a girl-friend who has gone mad over celebrities. To Jerry's despair, Trudy is deeply impressed with a ballet dancer, so with a sofa pillow as a partner, Jerry tries to learn "ballet." Then Trudy switches to aviation, and the anxious Jerry starts building model planes. Meanwhile Jerry's home life gets more and more complicated as he tries to follow Trudy's hilarious mental "quick changes." The final blow falls when Trudy starts reading Elizabeth Barrett Browning's sonnets. Jerry is sadly deficient in English Literature, but he tries to make up for it in a rush. His frantic maneuvers get the whole family into trouble, and things look pretty serious for Jerry. In despair, Jerry resorts to a real "last resort" and the humorous and unexpected reversal brings this last paced comedy to a pleasant and satisfying conclusion.

> The philosophy of education of St. Martin's is based on the conviction that character training should be foremost; that special stress and emphasis should be placed upon the development of the inner qualities of man. The harmonious development of the faculties of man is the cardinal and basic principle of the educational system. Embarked upon such a noble purpose, high in its ideals of the future endeavor, it will serve as a beacon light and guide to true education.

The long range goal of our curriculum is made to provide a Christian education for its students, to build within them character and true Christian principles, to send them forth prepared for higher education if they want it. In this, I believe St. Martin of Tours' High is succeeding.

The aim of this school is to inculcate within these men and women of tomorrow the character and sense of truth that would enable them to know the meaning of life—a meaning only explained by the life of Christ and God and eternal things. In this way also, I believe this school is succeeding.

And it is precisely because we have been thinking about the rules for the great game of life and the virtues that go to make a true follower of Christ that we have introduced this year to the school program an Athletic Association and a basketball team. The members of the faculty of St. Martin's, who devote themselves to the formation of the students, realize that it is necessary to develop the moral, intellectual and physical faculties of the students, and are doing their best to obtain this aim.

Hence, a short resume on what has been done in the field of athletics will show the real effort made on the part of the faculty as well as the student body.

The first game of basketball was played on the twentieth of December with East-Millinocket. It marked a real episode in the history of the school. And although our team was not in the victory column that night, it showed determination and spirit. It was youth and determination against experience and poise in the game.

The first period was close and hard-fought, with Albert and Osborne matching basket with Murry and Coffin of East-Millinocket. Ending, with the Purple Knights four points down, 13-9, it seemed probable that the winner would have a struggle on his hands.

It still seemed like a battle for half of the second period. Yet the defense around their basket was a big factor in the East-Millinocket's win. Plus that, Coach John Tracy did not have enough replacements to spell his team as they tired, and, as must be expected, the team did not have the experience and skill needed.

Nevertheless, this first game brought the students closer in the spirit of the school. They realized and made others stand up at the dynamic and animated heartiness that the students had for their school.

Congratulations are to be extended to the Reverend Pastor and the Reverend Sisters . . . the real founders of St. Martin's! And may St. Martin's School always uphold the spirit these good people have infused in the hearts of the boys and girls from the very beginning . . . the fear of God and the love of Christ . . . and may it always meet the demands as cited above; for certainly, a finer type of mankind will result from those who have been inculcated with the spirit of the Gospel.

—REV. CONRAD L'HEUREUX

PIONEER REPORT

From the Pony Express Mailbag

We disperse. This phrase from the graduation speech of one of the Pioneers has proven more true than we at the time realized. We find the Class of '51 represented in two States and two provinces of Canada.

Our occupations range from student to receptionist, postulate to housewife, Truly we are blazing "new trails in novel and strange fields," to borrow a phrase from another of our graduation speeches.

Pauline Plourde is working as a receptionist in Cambridge, Mass. The pleasant smile and cheery voice which were so much a part of our school life must be of great assistance to her in this work.

At the moment Norma Landry is at home, but the travel bug is biting hard and there's no telling where she'll be by the time the VICTORIA comes off the press. One thing we're sure of, though, with her flair for style, she'll dazzle people wherever she goes.

Edwina Bouchard now is free from the cares of her classmates. She spends no time debating which dress to wear, neither does she scrimp and save to buy a new cerise coat. The simple black garb of a postulant at the Holy Rosary Novitiate in Rimouski, gracefully falls from her slender shoulders. Her only ornament is the happiness which shines gently from her blue eyes.

In striking contrast to the black of Edwina, is the sparkling white uniform of Beverly Walsh who is studying nursing at the Madigan Hospital in Houlton. Bev loves nursing and we'll bet the patients all love her, too.

According to the Pioneer Statistics, Frank Manzo wants to be, "whatever comes along." While waiting for this world-shaking event to happen, Frank is working at the G. N. P. Co. We imagine that he'll give that all up after he makes his first million.

Beatrice Raymond is getting lots of practice as a cook by manufacturing sundaes for Emerson's Pharmacy. The way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Do you suppose that idea ever enters Bea's head?

There's another cook among the Pioneers. Joanne Mayo is now Mrs. Lee Burleigh and starting as chief cook and bottlewasher. On the side she keeps her floors so gleaming that a visitor can see his reflection in them.

A glance at Pioneer Statistics informed us that Ronald Bouchard wanted to be a man. Knowing all the hours he's spent working in the mill, we'd say he's achieved his ambition.

Sylvianne Albert is living at home where, to hear her tell it, she's working harder than she did at St. Martin's. Cheer up, Siv, someday a handsome hero will come galloping in from the west and take you away from all this.

Last, but not least, is our ever-ambitious Professor James Daley. From what he says College work certainly isn't a life of leisure. But with Jimmy's magnetic personality and ability to secure high marks we are convinced from the start that he will make a go of it. Good luck, Jim!

To our photographer and printers as well as to the devoted advisers of the faculty we say a heartfelt "thank you."

A special word of recognition also for the loyal support we received from our under classmen and the members of the class of 1952.
